Action may not always bring happiness, but there is no happiness without action

...feelings and emotions, it is the quickest way for the Earth to rise in vibrations. Process your own thoughts feelings and emotions.

We dont even have to try to take on the Earths pain. The Earth is a total of the state of ALL our energies. If we all process our own.

We are not responsible for processing the feelings and emotions of others, just our own. We dont have to take on the fear we see on tv i.e.

Picture yourself standing still and ALL THERE IS passes around you. You experience the vibration that you are, so dont worry, be happy is deep dont focus on the small population that is still negative. That does not serve us. What serves us is to keep our eye on where we want to go

The Earth is raising its vibrations to higher more loving vibrations, look around, we are becoming more loving. Just read the tweets.

No one ever changes anything. What changes is you, when you raise your vibrations you shift to the parallel reality which has the changes.

Right now there exists an infinite amount of Earths with all the possibilities. We are multi-dimensional beings who shift through realities

This shouldn't surprise, as the creator is infinite, meaning anything is possible, that's just how he/she/all there is rolls. it's his thang!
